

Wellwoman Screening at The London Women's Health Clinic

In response to requests from our patients, who have indicated that they would prefer a targeted, consultant-led screening programme instead of the more routinely available general, 'BUPA-style' health screening, we have developed a one-stop, comprehensive, combined breast and gynaecological review.

The programme costs £750 and comprises:

- Consultant Breast consultation by Mr Simon Marsh
- Consultant gynaecologist consultation and review
- Cervical smear
- Bilateral mammogram
- Transvaginal ultrasound

Other tests can be included if required or clinically indicated. For patients who have already had a mammogram a gynaecological-only review can be undertaken.

A full report of the review will be available within 48 hours.

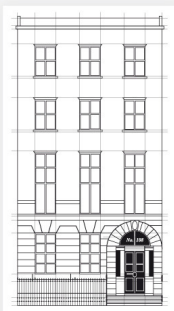

Any breast screening abnormalities can of course be investigated with a rapid appointment with a consultant at The London Breast Clinic or a referral to the consultant of the patient's choice.
